

A SPUR OF THE NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD will cross Route 45 about 2 miles south of Harrisburg. The spur will extend south four miles to the Walnut Grove community to a new strip mining operation of the Saxton Coal Co. John Wible of Carrier Mills, superintendent in this area for Saxton operations, stated recently the mining in Walnut Grove community would begin about Sept. 1. To extend the railroad spur from its main line to the south, it is necessary to cross Rt. 45 and approximately 100 feet of the highway was taken out, due to the angle the spur crosses the state road. In above photo workmen are doing concrete work in the replacing of the highway, after the rails were laid. During the work of laying the rails across the highway vehicle traffic has been forced to make a short detour. (Daily Register Staff Photo)

Grand Jury Hears Parts of Hodge Statement; 46 Indictments Sought

Ex-Auditor Free On Bond on Charge Of Embezzlement

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A grand jury today heard parts of Orville E. Hodge's statement on the million dollar check scandal in the state auditor's office.

State's Atty. George P. Coutrakon called a series of witnesses before the Sangamon County grand jury in quest of 46 indictments charging Hodge with embezzlement, forgery and confidence game.

Court reporter Harry L. Livingstone spent half an hour before the jury reading excerpts from his notes on a "tell-all" statement Hodge gave Coutrakon during eight hours of questioning last week.

Then 12 other witnesses entered the jury room one at a time to unfold more details in the case. The jury recessed for lunch after about two hours, to return at 1:30 p. m. CDT.

Coutrakon told reporters at the lunch break that he expected the jury to vote on his charges late today, but not much before 5 p. m. If indictments are returned, he said, it may be several days before Hodge could be arraigned because of the need to process indictments through the Circuit Court Clerk's office.

More Sessions Tuesday
Hodge, free on $50,000 bond on a warrant charging him with embezzling $650,000, was not asked to testify. He was reported waiting at his Lake Springfield home, 10 miles away, while the jury met.

Coutrakon said he plans further grand jury sessions Tuesday. Most of the witnesses then, he said, will be employees in the auditor's office.

After Livingstone testified, most of the witnesses this morning were persons named as payees on 46 checks issued by Hodge's office which are under scrutiny. The checks total more than $600,000.

Rudement Man Is Treated for Snake Bite

Vernon Ford of Rudement was treated Saturday at the Medical Arts center on South Main street for snake bite by a snake believed to have been a copperhead.

Ford said he was out in the woods trying out a gun he had recently acquired and felt a sting in his leg.

Turning to see what had happened, he saw a snake crawling through undergrowth and said it got away before he could shoot it.

Ford cut the wound and used oral suction on it, then came to Harrisburg where he was given a shot and other treatment.

Apartment Tenant Helplessly Sees Assailant Murder Woman on Beach

CHICAGO (AP) — Police today sought a husky 6-footer, believed to be a sex maniac, who raped and then beat a woman to death while an observer looked on through binoculars from a plush lakefront apartment 1 1/2 miles away.

The victim was identified as Margaret Gallagher, 50, part-owner of a North Side beauty shop. Her brother, Patrick J. Gallagher, made the identification.

Authorities said that if the witness who had watched her murder had called them immediately, instead of hurrying from his 15th floor apartment to the street and there seeking a policeman, they might have caught the assailant.

As it was, they found only the body of the victim, her head so brutally bashed in that police could only guess at her appearance.

Although the woman was slain near a crowded beach, police had difficulty finding anyone who admitted seeing her.

Authorities were trying to verify one report that a man, presumed to be a friend, had sat with her in the sunny park, screened by bushes from the beach, earlier in the day. A man and woman were observed sitting in approximately the same location as the murder site, and the man was said to have taken his chair and walked away, leaving the woman sun-bathing.

When police arrived on the scene, they found the woman nude except for a disarranged blouse. A pair of bloodstained shorts were nearby.

Arthur K. Besley, 51, a hospital superintendent, said he noticed the woman sitting near the bushes as he scanned the Lake Michigan shoreline with a pair of opera glasses from his 15th-floor apartment.

Besley, who was passing time while listening to a baseball game, looked away briefly. When he saw the woman again, he said she had moved from her camp chair to some large rocks.

She apparently did not know a bare-chested man was crouching in the bushes and watching her intently. He was clearly visible to Besley. In his hands, the man held what appeared to be a white shirt.

The man came out of the bushes, stood looking at the woman for several seconds, then ducked out of view again in the underbrush.

Seconds later, he leaped from the bushes, threw the shirt around the woman's neck and dragged her back with him. As he dragged her away, Besley could see the man hitting her on the head with a rock.

Hundreds of bathers frolicking in the lake barely 400 yards away saw nothing of what happened.

Besley called his wife and together they rushed toward the beach, hailing a traffic policeman on the way. When they arrived, the woman was dead and the man gone.

Near the chair where she had been sitting, they found a copy of a book, "Ben Hur." Inside was a bookmark bearing a printed prayer entitled, "A Prayer for a Happy Death."

Fire Reported In False Alarm

A false alarm which said there was a fire in the Television building on West Poplar street was turned in around 2:10 a. m. Sunday, Fire Chief L. G. Martin reported.

Martin, on duty at the time, said a woman called in the alarm and he hurried to the building, where he found no fire. A woman also called Charles O. Farrar, a member of the Turner-Farrar association which operates WSIL-TV, telling him the same thing told to Martin.

House Passes Civil Rights Bill, 279 to 126

Measure is Almost Certain to Die In Senate Rush

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House approved the administration's civil rights bill today over southern opposition. But the measure was almost certain to die in the Senate.

The roll call vote in the House on final passage of the bill was 279-126.

A powerful coalition of Republicans and northern Democrats drove the bill to final passage. A "baby filibuster" staged by the out-numbered Dixie bloc delayed passage for a week.

Barring a major upset, the bill will die in the Senate where it is not expected to get past the Senate Judiciary Committee. The rush toward weekend adjournment and threat of a southern filibuster will almost certainly prevent Senate action.

The final vote came after the House beat down a southern veto to kill the bill by sending it back to the Judiciary Committee. The roll call vote was 275-131 against this move to "recommit" the bill.

South Calls It "Vicious"

The bill would create a commission to investigate charges of civil rights violations. And it would arm the attorney general with additional legal powers to punish violators.

President Eisenhower had appealed for passage of a civil rights bill. The measure was recommended by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. Backers of the legislation termed it a "moderate" approach.

But Southerners roundly denounced it as "vicious" legislation. They said it was a politically inspired attempt on the part of Republicans and northern Democrats to woo the Negro vote in the fall election.

The measure generally followed the recommendations laid down by the Eisenhower administration. The bill would:

1. Create a bi-partisan commission of six members to investigate alleged civil rights violations, including "unwarranted economic pressures" because of color, religion or nationality.
2. Establish a new division within the Department of Justice under an assistant attorney general to handle civil rights cases.
3. Authorize the attorney general to bring civil suits directly in federal courts to protect citizens' rights.
4. Strengthen existing federal laws on the right to vote by authorizing the attorney general to bring damage suits to protect this right.

One Less in Loaded Auto Doesn't Make Much Difference

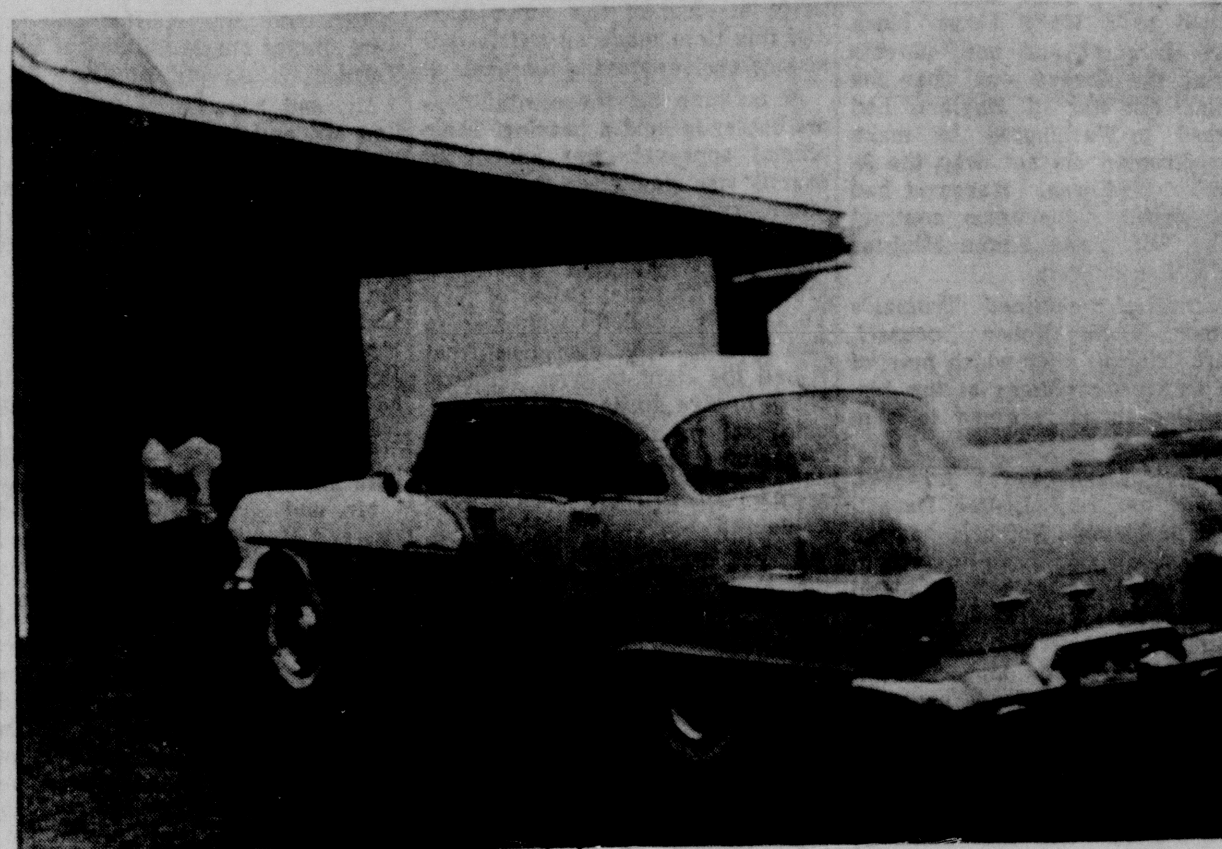

The out-of-state car pulled out of Rumsey and Wilson service station at Routes 13 and 45 Saturday afternoon and in a matter of minutes George Rumsey yelled to Chief of Police Ross Lane, parked across Route 13 at the Vic. Mitchell service station, to head north on Route 45 after the automobile. Lane did so and returned the car to the station.

The car, loaded with people, including five or six children, had stopped at the Rumsey-Wilson station. The car was gassed up and the occupants drank some soda pop.

One of the adults paid the bill and the car departed. In a matter of a minute or two, a child emerged from the rest room and asked where the car was. It had gone, leaving him, and Lane was called to run it down.

Lane halted the car near Muddy and told them what had happened. The adults took a quick inventory to see if any more were missing and returned to Harrisburg to pick up the lad.

Pair Abandon Auto, Flee Into Countryside

Searching Parties Cover Area Between Raleigh, Galatia

The Saline county sheriff's department and Harrisburg city police today joined Illinois state police and Franklin county officers in a search for two Chicago bank bandits who left their car in a barnyard between Raleigh and Galatia and fled into the drenched countryside.

At least 40 armed officers and others joined the search for Bruno Skirmont, 37, and William Bolten, 27, who in the midst of a chase drove up to the barn on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. James Garner adjacent to the J. Cecil Sullivan place on Route 34 about 11 a. m. and made their getaway.

"It was just about eleven o'clock," Mrs. Garner stated. "We were sitting there eating dinner when we saw this car speed into our driveway."

"I saw two men jump out of the car, one from each side, and run into the barn," Mr. Garner stated.

"Sheriff (William T.) Barrett drove in a few minutes later," Mr. Garner said.

In a matter of minutes the place was surrounded by converging officers and the barn was searched thoroughly but the pair had gone. Remaining was the 1956 gold and cream Pontiac which they had driven up to the barn door.

Search Area

Searching parties armed with shotguns, rifles and pistols began a search of adjacent cornfields, brush areas and the area along the Illinois Central railroad back of the farms.

Search during the noon hour had concentrated on some cornfields to the south and two airplanes were aiding the ground searchers in hunting the two. One reportedly was piloted by Herschel Smith of Eldorado, it being kept at the Harrisburg-Raleigh airport.

Directing the activities of a score of state police, who both searched the countryside and who stationed themselves at strategic points in the area, was Capt. Elza Brantley.

Reports were that Skirmont was five feet, seven inches tall, and weighed about 185 pounds. Bolten was described as being 6-2 and weighing 165. Both were wearing sport shirts when last seen.

The two, it was reported, stopped at a Galatia service station this morning and tried to put in a long-distance call to Chicago. However, they didn't get their party. The station operator identified the two from descriptions given him.

Indicted for Armed Robbery

The United Press reported that the two had been indicted for armed robbery at Chicago in connection with a bank holdup. Released under $50,000 bonds, the men were named in FBI fugitive warrants when they were suspected of having fled across a state line.

It was reported that the men attempted earlier to withdraw some money deposited in a safe deposit box at West Frankfort. They aroused the suspicions of George Lockhart, bank president, who called police. State police headquarters at Du Quoin were notified and soon the farm area was surrounded.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

God is our refuge and strength,

We have known men in utter despair who have turned to God with complete success in overcom-

H.S.T.—Made in America

If Europeans were given accurate accounts of former President Truman's behavior during his White House regime, they could not have been surprised by anything they observed of him on his recently completed Grand Tour.

For Mr. Truman was himself all the way, exhibiting the whole range of colorful and controversial characteristics that marked his eight years in the White House.

He bounded around Europe with amazing energy, showing always a lively curiosity about the sights on his agenda. He said good, earnest things about the affairs and the goals of free men. He popped off in Italy on the subject of allegedly "squirrel-headed" generals who engineered the World War II Anzio landing.

He got his picture taken in funny-looking hats, which certainly figured. When a volley of shots was fired in salute, he held his dignity even though totally enveloped in smoke.

Mr. Truman has plenty of friends and lots of adversaries. But they'd probably all agree that he's a thoroughly American product. Very likely he impressed the Europeans as such, too.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Grand Jury Probes Monopoly
Charges Against NBC; Westinghouse Was Forced To Sell Its Philadelphia Station To NBC; David Sarnoff Knows
How To Use The Telephone.

WASHINGTON. — A federal grand jury in Philadelphia has been calling some star executives of the television world for an unprecedented probe of monopoly and push-around tactics by the big networks. It could result in criminal indictments.

On the spot is David Sarnoff, top mogul of the National Broadcasting Company and the Radio Corporation of America, longtime friend of FDR, President Truman, and now President Eisenhower.

Sarnoff was on such intimate terms with Truman that he was invited to a White House lunch with Margaret and her parents during the Korean war when the Prime Minister of England had rushed to Washington to make sure Truman did not drop the A-bomb over Korea. Margaret had just signed a long-term contract with NBC, and Prime Minister Attlee had to wait.

Sarnoff also retained Truman's former White House counsel, Clark Clifford, after which most of his antitrust problems at the Justice Department seemed to vanish.

Under Eisenhower, however, Sarnoff has real Justice Department problems. Not only has the antitrust division been investigating NBC, but it called a federal grand jury in Philadelphia to probe the manner in which NBC informed the Westinghouse Broadcasting Company, then owner of WPTZ, that it, NBC, wanted to take over.

Westinghouse, it happened, didn't want to give up its Philadelphia station. But that made no difference. NBC wanted a radio-TV station of its own in Philadelphia and was in a position to pull its network programs away from Westinghouse.

So Westinghouse bowed. It swapped its Philadelphia outlet for a less desirable NBC outlet in Cleveland, plus $3,000,000. The Philadelphia station had cost Westinghouse $8,500,000 two years before, and the value of TV stations has not gone down.

SARNOFF TELEPHONES

When the Federal Communications Commission staff heard of this forced deal, it forwarded the facts to the Justice Department's anti-trust division in August, 1955.
This, however, did not faze NBC boss Sarnoff. He got on the telephone to FCC Chairman George McConaughy and urged speedy approval of the swap.

McConaughy knew that his FCC staff had made an unfavorable report. But despite this, he called his fellow commissioners behind closed doors just before Christmas last year and secretly
O. K'd the NBC-Westinghouse deal. Only Commissioner Robert Bartley objected.

A week later, Assistant Attorney General Stanley Barnes sent the FCC a letter, warning: "There appears to be a serious question as to whether or not the proposed transfer is . . . a violation of the Sherman Act."

Under FCC rules, the earlier approval could have been rescinded awaiting the outcome of the Justice Department's investigation.
McConaughy called another hasty meeting of the commission and this time made an official announcement approving the deal.

At no time did the commissioners bother to hold a hearing. Their official approval was announced exactly one day after the Barnes letter arrived.

Since then, both Senator Magnuson of Washington and Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York have called witnesses to find out why NBC considered that it had the right to force Westinghouse to give up its prize Philadelphia station. Finally the Justice Department called a grand jury.

first time science has found a new relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.
This substance is now available in

NBODY GAVE 'EM THE BIRD at John Nelson's at Pankeyville, but they got it anyway. It's the big fowl above which landed in the back yard Saturday morning and stayed. The bird, identified as a heron, was seen in the back yard by Sara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson. She walked toward it and it didn't try to get away. Neither did it when she stroked it. The bird stayed around the Nelson home all day Saturday and Sunday and was reported in the neighborhood this morning. However, later today Mr. Nelson reported the bird had died. ## U. S. Building at Benton Almost Assured: Gray

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D) 25th District of Illinois today announced that after a meeting held in Washington with F. Moran McConihe, Commissioner of Public Buildings of the General Services Administration and Rollin D. Barnard, Deputy Assistant Postmaster General, an agreement was reached on his request for a Certificate of Necessity for a much-discussed Federal building at Benton, Ill. Gray said this clears the way for Congressional action and as a member of the House Public Works committee, he has requested the chairman to call a special meeting before Congress adjourns to act upon the request.

The southern Illinois Congressman said the request would be contingent upon approval by the Bureau of the Budget; however, he said he was "very optimistic" that the much-needed Federal building would soon become a reality. He said the building is to be built under Public Law 519 known as the Lease-Purchase Act with private capital constructing the building and the government making monthly installments until the obligation has been retired, at which time title will be vested in the government. The building will cost approximately $1,100,000 and will primarily house the U. S. Federal Court, with space being provided for a new Post Office, the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture, U. S. Bureau of Mines, and possibly the Internal Revenue Service. The building will be constructed on a site already owned by the government, three blocks east of the public square.

Gray said Benton was in the process of getting a Federal building when World War II broke out and all construction of Federal buildings was deferred. He said today's action culminates almost two years of negotiations with the governmental agencies in an effort to obtain approval of the new building for Benton. He said people not only in Benton but throughout Southern Illinois would derive many benefits from the improved facilities to house the many governmental agencies operating in southern Illinois.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

When people complain there are usually a number of causes behind the complaint. Complaints and grievances cannot be dealt with as surface things. We must find out about all the people, things, and circumstances surrounding the central complaint.

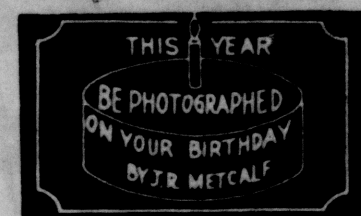

Misunderstanding, lack of proper information, dislikes, prejudices, and unrelated personal feelings make us ready critics and complainers. Some people appear to enjoy complaining. Some people find recognition which they seem to need by complaining.

Occasionally a little complaint is magnified into a big grievance by the addition of misinformation which is imagined by men and women who enjoy seeing others suffer mentally and emotionally. Any complaint can be cared for by sincere people who discover the basic causes, and deal with them.

Likewise our "gripes" can grow so large they can cause personal or group conflicts and even wars if "gripes" are merely silenced by force or authority. People want and deserve facts, causes, and reasons for many things. We must always consider the human and spiritual factors included in any problems and satisfy complaints.

The person who humbly worships and prays for God's insight is better able to help in satisfying complaints than is the autocrat who merely stems the tide of criticism.

New Settling Basins At Water Plant Continue to Leak

The two newly-constructed settling basins at the Harrisburg water plant continued to leak today after a week of efforts to stop the water from flowing through cracks that developed where new concrete joined with the concrete of the old basins.

A number of things had been done, including the construction of concrete pilaster in the interior of one of the tanks at the corner where water was pouring out.

Mayor Claude Gibbons, who was at the scene, said that the new concrete had not bonded with the old. He expressed the belief that the settling of the new basins when they were filled with water had pulled the new concrete away from the old.

George Sodermann of Champagne, engineer who set up the plans and specifications for the addition to the water treatment plant, was expected here today or tomorrow.

Quarterly Meeting Held by Teen Town Boards; Committees Are Named

The adult and junior boards of the Harrisburg Youth Center held their quarterly meeting Thursday, July 20. Twenty one of the twenty four organizations belonging to the board were represented.

Mrs. Carl Rude, president, expressed thanks in behalf of the youth center to Denzil Pearson for donating a shuffle board game, to Orval Dean and George Barnes for donating their time and service in the moving of the game to the center, and Mrs. M. P. McDonald of Harrisburg Electric Co. for donating lights to go above the game and having the lights installed. Mrs. Rude also thanked the Ray Durham Lumber Co. for donating a ping pong table and a frame for the bulletin board. Eugene Morris presented the youth center with an electric clock and Dale Sullivan donated a radio.

Steel Negotiators Agree to Resume Bugged-Down Talks

PITTSBURGH (U.P.)—Steel strike negotiators picked up their own ball Sunday and agreed to resume bugged-down contract talks to end a 23-day industry-wide walkout.

Bargainers for the steel industry and representatives of 650,000 striking United Steelworkers agreed to meet in New York City Tuesday. They had broken off negotiations here Saturday.

John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel Corp. vice president and chief industry spokesman, and USW president David J. McDonald arranged the meeting in an informal telephone conversation Sunday.

U. S. Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan said in Washington the government had "nothing at all to do" with the revitalized talks. But Finnegan and other top federal officials hailed the new meetings and expressed hope that a "mutually satisfactory agreement" would be reached quickly.

Shortly before both sides agreed to resume discussions, the union released its answer to a company charge that a big wage increase for millworkers would touch off another "inflationary spiral." The USW said pricing policies of the steel industry were responsible for any inflationary tendencies in the nation's economy.

Claud Mitchell of Carrier Mills Dies at Veterans Hospital

Claud Mitchell, 61, resident of Carrier Mills, died Sunday at 11:50 p. m. at the veterans hospital in Marion.

He was a veteran of World War I and a retired coal miner by occupation. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell.

The body lies in state at the Miller funeral home in Carrier Mills where services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Ernest Ammon will officiate and interment will be in Salem cemetery with military rites.

He was a member of the Carrier Mills American Legion Post. Pallbearers will be Ed Koister, Ralph Brandon, Harry Craig, William Murphy, Carl Hutson and Millage Cowger.

He leaves eight children: Charles, Bob, Bill, Theodore, Wanda and Barbara Mitchell, all at home; Tom of Joliet and John who is in the Air Force in Tampa, Fla.; seven grandchildren; one brother, Otto Mitchell, Mt. Vernon; and two sisters, Mrs. Casey (Laura) Roper, Carrier Mills, and Mrs. Nellie Stricklin of Carrier Mills.

The following committees were appointed by the president: House, Mrs. George Barnes, Marion Vick, Hollie Stout, Mrs. H. C. Lewis; chaperone, Mrs. Bob Davenport, Mrs. J. M. Hart, Mrs. Don Scott and Mrs. Ronnie Coon; by-laws and rules, Dale Sullivan, Mrs. Pat Sullivan, Eugene Morris, Mrs. C. W. Whitley; finance and registration, Mrs. Art Bottomley, Mrs. John Foster, Mrs. L. B. Kimmel and Guy Tanner; entertainment and refreshments, Mrs. Charles Ford, Mrs. Francis Jahn, Wayne Dixon and Marion Vick; publicity, Mrs. Bob Rushing; telephone, Mrs. Guy Tanner.

The board voted to amend the by-laws to include 19 year old youths. Mrs. Tanner reported to the board on the special dance which was held at the youth center the night of the junior-senior prom. Freshmen and sophomore committees decorated the hall and had an orchestra from Eldorado for the occasion.

Mrs. Charles Taylor gave a report on the Southern Illinois Teen Town meeting at Carbondale. These meetings are held quarterly and in April the Teen Towns of the area met to exchange ideas and discuss activities. The next southern Illinois meeting will be held at Cairo Oct. 10.

In discussing current needs for the center the junior board suggested that a dressing table and chair were needed for the girls' powder room and that another ping pong table was needed.

Mrs. Rude said that several people who did not belong to organizations represented on the board had volunteered to chaperone. A list is being made of these interested people and they may be called on if any substitutes are needed.

The next quarterly meeting will be held in October.

Crack Santa Fe Train Leaves Tracks; 26 Hurt

CARROLLTON, Mo. (U.P.)—All 13 cars of the Santa Fe railroad's crack San Francisco Chief left the tracks Sunday night, injuring 26 of the 122 passengers aboard.

There were no fatalities. Many of the passengers were treated at hospitals and released to continue on their journey. Others were detained.

The Missouri Highway Patrol reported 20 of the 26 were litter cases.

Many of the 122 passengers and 27 crew members probably owe their lives to the fact the train was slowing down. The Chief is the Santa Fe's second newest passenger train and is capable of speeds up to 80 miles an hour.

Santa Fe officials in Chicago said the derailment apparently was caused by a V-shaped piece of metal which lodged in a switch after falling from a passing freight.

The Chief was en route from Chicago to San Francisco when it derailed at 10:30 p. m. while slowing down for a flag stop in Carrollton, Landreth said.

Rites at Eldorado For Mrs. Eva Wilson

Funeral services for Mrs. Eva Wilson, former Eldorado resident who died Thursday at Detroit, Mich., were held today at 2:30 p. m. in the chapel of the Martin funeral home. Rev. Eddie Hatfield of the First Baptist church in Eldorado officiated and burial was in Wolf Creek cemetery.

The body arrived in Eldorado yesterday morning on the N. Y. Central.

House Group Fails To Clear Bill To Aid Depressed Areas

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The House rules committee failed Saturday to clear for House debate a controversial bill to set up a new federal program to aid industrial and rural areas of high unemployment.

The bill calls for federal loans to help provide jobs and for a federally-financed program of re-training unemployed for new jobs.

The committee decision came after Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) and other sponsors urged approval of the bill.

John Lienenbach, Former Resident, Picked Up as AWOL

John Lienenbach, formerly of Harrisburg, who had completed a four-month period of incarceration ten days ago for being AWOL from Great Lakes Naval Training center, today was in trouble for the same offense.

Saline county authorities went to West Frankfort Friday and picked up the youth. He was returned to Great Lakes Saturday.

Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed said that young Lienenbach had taken the car of his father at Whitings, Ind., and had driven into southern Illinois, where he was picked up by West Frankfort city police. The local authorities went after him when he said he was from Harrisburg.

Chicago Opens New Centers for Polio Inoculation

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Three new inoculation centers were opened today to help in Chicago's battle against a record polio wave.

Chicago Board of Health President Herman Bundesen said the clinics were designed to assist in the inoculation of some 500,000 potential victims of polio which has stricken 268 persons so far this year.

Auto Overturns

County officers were investigating the circumstances surrounding the overturning of an automobile in a ditch on Route 34 north of town. It was believed the auto was overturned sometime between midnight and daylight. A check of the hospitals here by authorities revealed no wreck-injury patients.

Leases Dari-Hi

L. R. Davis who resides southwest of Harrisburg, has leased the Dari-Hi soft ice cream stand at the corner of Granger and College streets, from John Raley and plans a grand opening soon. The business has been closed since young Mike Raley left for Colorado several months ago.

Eisenhower Confers With Latin American Presidents to Wind Up 3-Day Meeting

PANAMA CITY (U.P.)—President Eisenhower meets privately today with 10 more Latin American presidents to wind up three days of "good neighbor" conference which brought a new declaration of solidarity to the Western Hemisphere.

The presidents, meeting together for the first time in history, gave enthusiastic approval to a suggestion by Mr. Eisenhower that keynote the conference of American presidents.

He suggested in a speech Sunday that a special commission be established to find new ways of inter-American cooperation for the welfare of the Western Hemisphere in peacetime. He proposed that his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, "who is well-known to the people of Latin America," be named as the U. S. representative to such a commission.

Chief executives from 19 of the 21 American states attended.

Mr. Eisenhower met privately with President Adolf Ruiz Cortines of Mexico Saturday night and with seven others Sunday.

Today he was scheduled to devote a half-hour each to talks with the presidents of Venezuela, Cuba, Bolivia, Chile, Nicaragua, Ecuador, Paraguay, El Salvador, the Dominican Republic and Panama. The private conferences at the U. S. Embassy were scheduled to open at 9:30 a. m. EDT with Venezuelan President Marcos Perez Jimenez, and end tonight with a farewell visit by host President Ricardo M. Arias of Panama.

The President's private plane leaves for the return trip to Washington at 11 p. m. EDT.

Most of the talks were expected to center on hemispheric economic problems.

Maj. Gen. Howard C. Snyder, President Eisenhower's personal physician said he was "amazed" that the Chief Executive was able to stand the routine of the conference so well.

Aircraft Industry Cleared of Excess Profits; Hit High Salaries

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) said today he was "stunned" by some of the big salaries and bonuses paid to officials of aircraft companies making military planes.

Hebert is chairman of a House armed services subcommittee which investigated the profits of military plane manufacturers for nearly a year.

The subcommittee's formal report, made public Sunday, cleared the aircraft industry of charges that it was reaping excessive profits on government plane contracts.

The report said that "on the average" the industry's profits appeared to be within reason. In some individual contracts where profits appear to be "higher than they ought to be," the report said, the excess payments can be recovered by routine contract renegotiation.

But Hebert said that the salaries and bonuses paid to some plane manufacturers were shocking.

"Everyone believes in fair reward and return for effort, but I am afraid some of these salaries and incentives are more of a sop to vanity than take-home pay," Hebert said in a prepared statement.

"Where public money is involved and government contracts are involved, it (payment of excessive salaries) is dangerous business," he said.

Hebert's statement followed a report issued by his subcommittee on its investigation. The subcommittee declared that "excessive" salaries and bonuses should not be charged to the government as costs of making military planes. "Why," the President of the United States and his Cabinet and the White House staff don't have an executive payroll the size of a few of these smaller companies," Hebert said.

Subcommittee testimony showed that in many cases salaries and bonuses were charged to the government as part of the costs of military plane contracts. The subcommittee said, however, it had found that "on the average" profits on military plane contracts were not excessive.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

Copyright 1956 by Brett Halliday. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: A woman's voice over the telephone reports to the desk that a dead man is in one of the rooms of the Hibiscus hotel. House Detective Patton investigates room 366 and finds everything in perfect order.

II
PATTON turned about with a puzzled frown, shaking his head dubiously at the bell-captain in the doorway, then dropped to his knees beside the bed, lifted the trailing coverlet to look beneath it carefully.

He got to his feet, brushing off his knees, his eyes hard and probing as he swept up the telephone from the small table at the head of the bed.

He rumbled, "Have you gone nuts, Evelyn? There's no one here—alive or dead."

"But that's what she said. That there was a dead man. Murdered, she said. I can't help it, Mr. Patton, if—"

He growled, "Skip it. Tell me this. Dood supposed to be in?"

"He—" she faltered. "Well, he was in earlier. But—uh—414 called his room about half an hour ago."

Patton got a handkerchief from his pocket and wiped sweat from his face. "Who's 414?"

"Miss Payne."

"Tall and skinny?" he ruminated, blinking his eyes in thought. "He go up there?"

"Well, yes. I guess maybe he did. I just happened to hear her ask him—"

"Okay, okay. Tell Dick to hold the fort while we take a look."

He shrugged at Bill as he replaced the phone. "Up in 414? You had anything here or there this evening?"

"Not since about six. Ice to Miss Payne."

Patton left the door standing open and the light burning as he led the way back to the elevator. The operator stood in the open door waiting for them anxiously.

The buzzer let out a long peal as they stepped in and he said, "Up one floor."

"Somebody on eight getting mighty mad," said the operator. They turned to the right this time they left the elevator, went about 20 paces and turned left into an intersecting corridor.

Patton stopped in front of the fourth door on the left, stenciled 414. Light came through the transom above the door.

He knocked rather loudly. "Hotel detective. Open up, Miss Payne."

"How dare you?" The voice was louder and more indignant. "Go away from my door."

He rattled the knob again and put his mouth closer to the wood. "You don't want to cause a lot of attention, Miss Payne. Neither do I. Unlock the door or I'll use my pass-key."

Miss Payne was shoved back by his entrance, still clinging to the knob.

She was tall and slender, with aquiline features and a somewhat sharp nose, and with lightly graying hair piled atop her head. Her dark eyes flashed angrily at the hotel detective.

"What is the meaning of this?" "I'm looking for Mr. Dood."

"Then you must misunderstand what was said."

"No, I—I—" Slowly Evelyn's mouth widened into a big round O. "Gee, gosh, I wonder, Mr. Patton. I'll tell you. When she first said: 'There's a dead man in,' I thought she said in '316.' That's why I checked my plug so careful and tried to call her back. But the call was from 360, so I just thought, for sure I'd been mistaken. I thought she must've said 360 instead of 316 because that's where the call came from. Do you suppose—?"

"Here we go again," said Patton sourly. "Three-sixteen, huh? Who's 316, Dick?" he called to the clerk.

"U-m-m, that's Miss Paulson, I think."

"She doesn't answer," said Evelyn.

Patton turned away from her tiredly and went back to the elevator, shaking his head at Bill this time. "Just to double-check," he said.

WHEN he reached the third floor again, he stopped in front of the fifth door on his left this time, 316, near the end of the corridor.

Patton knocked loudly, waited and knocked again, ordering gruffly, "Open up or I'll use my pass-key."

When nothing happened, he got out a ring of keys, selected one and unlocked the door. He stood on the threshold and reached inside for the wall switch. He blinked as the lights came up in a replica of Miss Payne's room.

The interior was neat and a little warm because the windows beyond the bed, overlooking the

Burke, Furgol, Johnston, Kroll In Semifinals

CANTON, Mass. (AP) — Masters champion Jackie Burke faced former Open king Ed Furgol and dark-horse Bill Johnston met tournament-toughened Ted Kroll today in the semifinals of the PGA golf tournament.

The Burke-Furgol match was rated a toss-up by Kroll, the former infantry sergeant who recently blew the U. S. Open championship, was given an edge over the 31-year old Johnston of Provo, Utah, who is playing in his first PGA tournament.

The semifinals today will be at 10 holes with the winners meeting for the title on Tuesday.

Kroll beats Snead

Burke, who said he "was driving wonderfully, the best I've ever driven," defeated Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas, 4 and 2 in the quarter-finals Sunday afternoon after eliminating Charles Harper of Columbus, Ga., in the morning round 3 and 2.

Furgol, who won the open title in 1954, turned back Teri Johnson of Wilmington, Del., 1 up in the afternoon after scoring a 4 and 3 victory over Bob Kay of West Hartford, Conn. Furgol fired five birdies in a row to oust Kay and then when it appeared he might falter against Johnson he came up with two birdies on the 15th and 16th holes to come from behind and win.

Kroll downed the favored Sam Snead, 2 and 1, in the quarter-finals after ousting former PGA champion Jim Turnesa, 1 up, in the fourth round. Snead and Turnesa were two of four PGA kings eliminated Sunday, the others being the 54-year old Gene Sarazen and Walter Burkemo. Snead knocked Sarazen out of the running, 5 and 4.

The good looking Johnston, who credited "accuracy" with his success, beat Henry Ransom of West Chicago, Ill., 3 and 2 in the quarter-finals after advancing with a 1 up triumph over Burkemo.

Granny Hamner is Willing to Quit Pitching With Perfect Record

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Granny Hamner, pitcher, was just about willing today to quit with a perfect record and go back to being the same old Granny Hamner, shortstop.

Hamner was called on by the Phillies to leave shortstop and go to the pitching mound in the eighth inning of the second game of Sunday's double-header, won by Milwaukee, 16-5. Seemed like the Braves were even more surprised than Granny — he stopped them cold with no hits and no walks and, in the bargain, struck out one.

The Phillies used 16 pitchers in the three-day series and Hamner's appearance was just a one-day wonder in order to have the wear and tear on the staff.

New Speedboat Record

PICTON, Ont. (AP) — Bill Hodgson of Toronto, Ont., set a new world speedboat record of 125.281 miles per hour for a 266-class hydroplane Sunday on the Bay of Quinte. Hodgson, in his 255-horsepower "Miss O'Keefe," thus bettered the world mark of 121.703 mph by Bobby Sykes of California.

GETTING THE HANG OF IT—It's awkward situations like this that make Stan Musial wish he were back in the outfield for the St. Louis Cardinals. Hanging over a rail chasing a fly ball hit into a dugout is rough exercise for a first baseman.

Induct Cronin, Greenberg Into Hall of Fame

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — Baseball will induct Joe Cronin and Hank Greenberg into the Hall of Fame today in ceremonies which probably will not be repeated until 1958, due to a new ruling on election of candidates for the shrine by senior baseball writers.

Under a new rule, the writers who have been members of the national association of major league scribes for 10 or more years, will hold their elections henceforth every two years instead of annually.

As part of today's ceremonies, the Detroit Tigers, with whom Greenberg attained his greatest fame, will take on the New York Giants in the annual Hall of Fame exhibition. One team from each major league annually participates.

But the cheers today in this small country town, the alleged

Bull Attacks Train—Loses

LONG BRANCH, N. J. (AP) — A half-ton purebred Aberdeen Angus bull attacked a Pennsylvania Railroad train near here Saturday. The animal lost.

The bull, worth $2,800.00, charged down an embankment and into the train.

Engineer Frank A. Ernest said his train whistle stopped the 1,000 pound beast momentarily, but it came on in a death charge.

The collision caused a 40-minute delay until the animal's carcass was removed from the tracks. None of the passengers was injured.

home of the national pastime, were for Greenberg, the one-time mighty home run slugger of the Tigers, and Cronin, the shortstop de luxe of the Washington Senators and Red Sox.

The colorful ceremonies presided over by the "top brass" of baseball, plaques honoring the two one-time American League stars were to be placed alongside those of Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, and the rest of those famed old players.

Lane Criticizes Ump for Decision

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Fireball Frank Lane, the general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals virtually dared National League boss Warren G. Giles today to do something about his criticism of Umpire Frank Secory.

Lane was exasperated because Secory called third baseman Ken Boyer out at first in the fourth inning of Sunday's game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"When an umpire makes a decision like that he ought to pay to get in to see the game," Lane said. "He boots one and then throws the player out—like a bad doctor burying his mistakes."

Lane said he was certain Secory made a bad call because of Boyer's reaction. Boyer normally says nothing to umpires, Lane said.

It was the first time in Boyer's career that he had been thrown out of a game.

Legion Drops 8-6 Contest at Corydon, Ky.

Walks and errors helped bring the Legion to its eighth defeat of the season as it bowed to Corydon, Ky., by an 8 to 6 score at the latter's field, Sunday afternoon.

Don Stout was on the mound for the Legion and he allowed nine hits in going the route. The Legion garnered 13 hits in losing with Jim Hay picking up four for five to lead the local offense. Bob Dallas and Dick Romonosky had two each, with G. Hay, H. Gulley, Bob Roper, Frank Logsdon, and Don Stout picking up a hit each. Bob Dallas and Dick Romonosky connected for long homers with Dallas' drive going at least 450 feet.

Bob Roper turned in the outstanding play of the day when he fired a strike to Romonosky to cut down a Corydon runner to spike a scoring threat by the winners.

Boulton was on the hill for the winners with Fryer doing the catching.

Score by innings:

Legion 011-200-011—6 13 3

Corydon 030-002-21x—8 9 1

Home runs—Harrisburg—Dallas 8th, none on; Romonosky 4th with one on.

Winning pitcher—Boulton; Loser—Stout.

Next Sunday the Legion will go to Uniontown, Ky., to play the Boosters of that city.

Braves Win Two From Phils, Threaten to 'Break Open' National L. Pennant Race

By United Press

The Milwaukee Braves owned the biggest National League lead of the season today and threatened for the first time "to break open" the pennant race.

In the wake of an 8-7 and 16-5 sweep of the Philadelphia Phillies, the Braves increased their lead over the second-place Cincinnati Redlegs to three games and their winning pace since Fred Haney took over as manager June 16 to .743. That three-game lead is greater than the margin which separated the first and fifth-place teams in the N.L. on June 22.

Philly Shortstop Pitches

A crowd of 39,679 saw the Braves stage their biggest offensive outburst of the year Sunday. They walloped 26 hits, including six homers, four triples and four doubles in an assault that finally found shortstop Grady Hamner pitching for the Phillies.

Hank Aaron's 14th homer gave the Braves their margin in the opener. Joe Adcock and Ed Matthews homered in each game and Bobby Thomson blasted two homers and a triple in the nightcap. Ray Crone won his ninth game in the opener and Lew Burdette his 12th in the second.

The Redlegs, meanwhile, beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-2, after suffering an 8-6 loss in their opener when Jack Shepard singled with the bases filled and two out in the ninth. Joe Nuxhall, who won his seventh game, Gus Bell and Bob Thurman hit homers for the Redlegs in the nightcap. Relief pitcher George Munger scored his second win for the Pirates in the opener.

Erskine Wins Eighth

Duke Snider hit his 21st homer to win the opener and sparked the winning rally in the second game with a single as the Dodgers downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-3 and 4-3. Carl Erskine pitched a seven-hitter for his sixth straight victory and eighth of the year and Sandy Koufax won his second game for Brooklyn.

The Chicago Cubs knocked the New York Giants still deeper into the National League cellar with 4-1 and 2-1 victories. Don Kaiser flipped a four-hitter to take the first game and Sam Jones and Turk Lown collaborated in a five-hitter in the nightcap. Lown received credit for his seventh win and sixth in 15 days.

In the American League, the New York Yankees split a double-header with the Kansas City Athletics but still lead by 9 1/3 games. The Athletics routed 14-game winner Johnny Kucks to win the first game, 7-4, but Bill Skowron and Norm Siebern hit homers to lead the Yankees to a 13-4 rout in the nightcap. Rip Coleman was New York's winning pitcher.

Wynn Pitches Six-Hitter

Early Wynn pitched a six-hitter for his 11th win as the Cleveland Indians beat the Baltimore Orioles, 8-0. Vic Wertz led Cleveland's 17-hit attack with his 23rd homer and two singles. It was Cleveland's
